

NEW Premium Shell stone

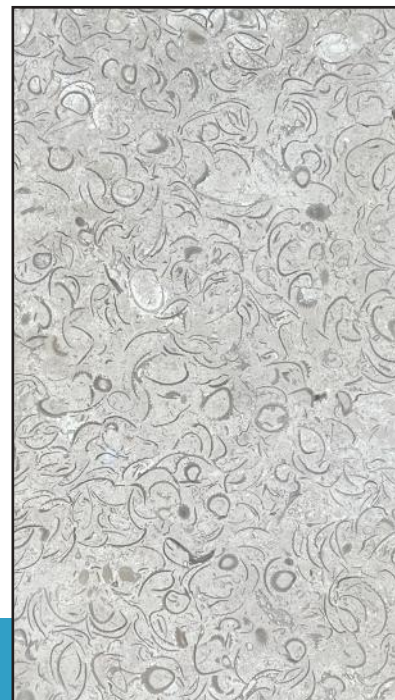

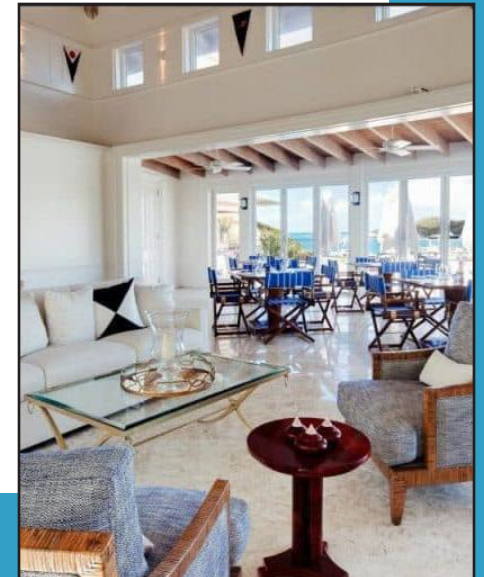

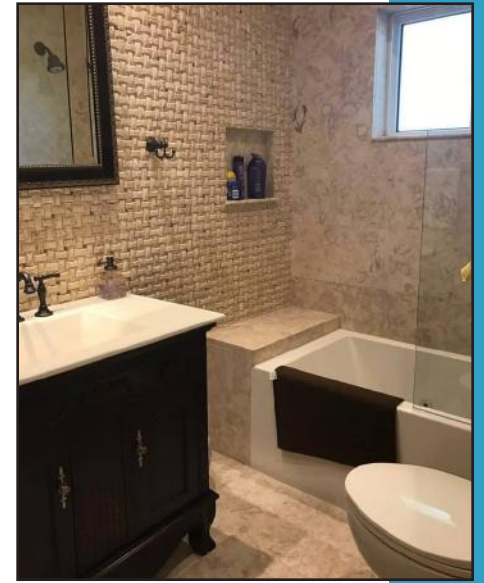

This stone is Unique in so many ways, from being formed at the bottom of a seabed, which makes it a strong stone great to use around saltwater pools, as well as the many beautiful shells and marine life fossils throughout the stone.

The neutral color and rich texture make it a versatile material for the interior and exterior.

One of the many benefits of this stone is the minimal tonality variation.

From tile to pavers, this strong and dense shell stone is the perfect choice for anyone wanting a stone that will not only be a conversation piece but add elegance to your home.
